

Happy Chinese New Year!

✝ Prayer Partner Update

God's Answers to Your Prayers

I finished the semester with 6 Bible studies although there were some changes to some of them. Amy, Ally, and Sandy were all faithful to the Sunday morning Bible study. The Monday Bible study had as few as two and as many as eight. About half those attending are Christians and about half are not. Christal indicated that she is thinking about becoming a Christian. Of my Tuesday Bible study, Ruth and Mavis are Christians while Vicky and Elise are not. I have two unbelievers attending a new Bible study on Wednesday mornings. Their names are Johnson and Natalie. Two others (Henson and Gizelle) came a couple of times. Jannie stopped coming to Thursday morning Bible study, but Fiownna was enthusiastically seeking what God wanted her to do after graduation. She had several good options and eventually chose one which I think is God's will. Please pray for her as she eventually wants to open up a cram school where she can share Christ. Esther (depression problems) has faithfully attended the Thursday evening Bible study although Molly only came seven times. Esther needs to be more committed to God. Pray for her spiritual growth.

English student council seems to be going better internally although they did not have many activities this semester. They are planning four contests next semester. Pray for unity.

My counseling class ended up not doing a drama. Instead, we gave our time to the senior drama so that they could do a good Christmas drama. Next semester, however, we will have a chapel time. Pray for wisdom as I help them plan it. Also, I will be planning a creation science chapel with my science class and another teacher here for the end of April. Pray that the students here understand that evolution is not true and that the Bible can be trusted in all areas. Most of all pray that they will see that there is a God to whom they are responsible.

I will be flying home this winter vacation. Pray for safety as I travel and a fruitful vacation. I want to prepare some things for next semester and do some Biblical research.
